Time: Thursday, January 7th - 2016, 9:00 – 15:00

Location: Natural History Museum, Øster Voldgade 5-7, Auditorium in the main building above the reception

The annual meeting between research groups in Denmark working on the Greenland ice sheet is an informal network meeting. Each group presents current work and ongoing activities of interest in order to stimulate discussions and collaborations.

The afternoon is dedicated to presentation of field work plans for 2016 and to two smaller presentations that are of general interest, and for continued group discussions on various topics if relevant.
